HOME ISN’T A PLACE, IT’S A FEELING.

— CECELIA AHERN
Roasting s'mores on an outdoor fire pit while sharing lively stories. Hosting an elegant alfresco dinner party in a perfectly manicured backyard for a loved one's birthday. Cooking a favorite recipe after a full day of meetings. If these sound like moments I have enjoyed at home, think again. These experiences represent some of my favorite recent memories on the go in Deer Valley, Utah; Ojai, California; and New York City, respectively.

I find a distinct beauty in being able to travel and immerse myself in a destination like a long-time local and not a one-time, transient visitor. Where I stay plays a crucial role in my ability to enjoy these experiences through a new lens, and, sometimes, even the most lavish hotel suite leaves me wanting more room to roam and the familiar comforts of home.

In that spirit, we created Preferred Residences as the perfect marriage of the services and amenities of a five-star hotel with the comfortable luxuries of a private residence to help travelers live inspired, whether they are on staycation with a group of all ages or a solo business trip halfway across the globe. Preferred Residences presents a plethora of singular residential travel experiences that will entice you to venture farther while making you feel more connected to home. It is one of the ways you can experience #ThePreferredLife.

When you envision your next adventure, what do you see? Is it sailing along the pristine shoreline of Mexico with an impromptu stop for snorkeling? Or having a personal cooking lesson in a private villa in Thailand that turns into a late-night dinner filled with great food and conversation? Or perhaps it is lounging poolside while rubbing shoulders with famous faces between meetings on your next business trip to Los Angeles? Regardless of what inspires your travels, when staying with Preferred Residences, you feel at home while on the road and can indulge in a daily routine that is perfectly you and anything but ordinary.

From Shanghai, China, and Straffan, Ireland, to Cabo San Lucas, Mexico, and Montego Bay, Jamaica, explore familiar and new destinations alike within our latest Preferred Residences Guide, and enjoy having your journeys take on more personality with these inspiring properties as your home away from home.
